FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Integra And DigitalMailer Form Co-Marketing Alliance In The Financial Services Industry

Safety Harbor, Fla. and Herndon, Va. – June 13, 2006 – Integra Business Systems, Inc. and DigitalMailer, Inc., announced today a sales and referral agreement between the two companies. The deal will give clients access to a comprehensive suite of products aimed at “going paperless.”

Integra, a leading vendor of document solutions for the financial services industry, selected DigitalMailer as the best-in-breed supplier of digital communication products to credit unions and their members throughout the country. DigitalMailer selected Integra as a marketing partner to augment its eCheck and eStatement products with electronic imaging, eSignature and document-tracking functionality.

“The combined offering yields substantial cost savings for organizations looking to reduce paper in both internal and external operations,” said Alan J. Wiessner, CEO for Integra. “There’s minimal overlap between each company’s product line and they complement each other perfectly.”

The referral agreement will allow both companies to promote and support their industry-leading products and services to their respective clients and prospects.

“Partnering with Integra matches well with DigitalMailer’s business model,” said Ron Daly, President of DigitalMailer. “As more credit unions are seeing the value of our eStatements and other digital communications tools, our client base is rapidly expanding across the country. Now, working with Integra will bring even more value to our solutions.”
