The Next Generation: Document meets Check on the Enterprise...Enterprise Content Management...that is.

Safety Harbor, FL - January, 31 2007 - Summit Financial Solutions, Inc. and Integra Business Systems, Inc announced today that Summit has signed agreements to remarket Integra Business Systems, Inc.'s iDentifi.Net Electronic Content Management software as an integrated component of the Summit.NET family of image solutions. Employing the latest Web-based technology, Integra's iDentifi.Net suite of products include document scanning, automated indexing and barcode for long-term archival and retrieval of document images, document and collateral tracking for compliance audit and e-signature for completely paperless transactions.

Craig Witbart, Executive Vice President, Summit Financial Solutions, Inc. stated, "The decision to add the iDentifi.Net suite of products to the Summit.NET product line gives Summit a significant advantage in the market. Adding Integra's .NET-based document imaging suite to the Summit.NET item capture / image exchange suite results in the most comprehensive "open" image solution available from any vendor.

"Summit's approach to the market for sales, customer support and software development parallels our own products and services offering with the use of .Net technology and employing the Web to deliver the next generation in document and image processing." stated Alan Wiessner, President and CEO, Integra Business Systems, Inc.

About Summit Financial Solutions

Summit Financial Solutions, Inc. introduced the financial industry's first integrated Check Imaging, COLD, and Document Management suite based entirely on Microsoft's .NET platform. Summit.NET was the first system specifically built to handle the electronic image exchange requirements of Check21. The rapid acceptance of Summit.NET as "The Next Generation of Check Imaging" is validated by the fact that 35% of the banks ordering Summit.NET did so to replace a competitive image system. The Company provides a wide range of internet-based applications, including remote image capture, remote deposit, cash letter manager, branch capture, merchant capture, document storage, and security modules. Summit's software currently runs on more than 20 core account processing applications, including leading in-house and service bureau solutions.
